

The Front Arte Cultura – San Diego, California

18 January, 2020

The Agite y Sirva Festival becomes biennial and proposes to expand the scope and perception of curatorial, pedagogical and creative practices in screendance.

Our AyS Selection 2019 - 2020 embraces and takes care of 45 cine-choreographic works bearing sound images, collective powers, bodies as living archives, belonging - memory - time and conversations at stake.

Sound images expands the being-body by interweaving musicalities, gestures, passages, densities, visions, sonorities, sensitivities and vibrant spatialities, connected with the ritual.

Collective powers pay homage to the multiple memories of encounters, places and echoes that resonate in bodies, roads, deviations and territories.

Bodies: living archives wonder about natural movement, found movement and choreographies of the passions; it exposes a network of scores as living writings in space-time, in coexistence with screen-bodies and augmented reality experiences.

Belonging, memory and time poetizes intimacies, emptiness, love, roads, footsteps, searches, returns and reunions, hospitality and care practices.

Conversations at stake inscribes explorations in listening and transit, by jumping limits and rethinking what flirts with getting serious; it allows ruptures of expectation, filmic time and authorship, develops starting points such as photography and origami.
